

K-love radio station is of extreme importance to me. It is upbeat, family friendly christian music that is spreading the gospel of Christ. With all the negativity in this world, this positive is quite necessary. Do we need another secular station. NO! Do we need more stations like K-Love? YES! Challenge: Listen for one week while at work, in the car, at home. Wherever. See if you don't feel less agitated and more encouraged. You'll see how important it is to keep these stations on the airwaves and more of them. As it is, there are only a select few christian radio stations as opposed to all the other mundane, unnecessary and negative programming out there. I listen almost exclusively to Christian programming (with the exception of a sports game occasionally) and refuse to listen to anything else. There is virtually no value in any thing else. Don't jeopardize this valuable programming.
